The Sacrifices

Today' Reading : Hebrews 10: 1 - 12

There were many different kinds of sacrifices, some were bloody others were bloodless.
Lets take a look at some of them.

Sacrifice 1:

The Burnt Offering (Bloody)

Sword Drill Leviticus 1 & 6: 8-13 (Regulations)

The offerer brought a male without defect, as what theyCould afford!

The priest kept the skin of the animal.

None of the offering was eaten it was all burnt.

The offering was brought to the door of the Tabernacle.

The offerer placed his hand on the animal's head and the animal was accepted for atonement for the offerer. The animal was killed and the blood was sprinkled against all the sides of the Altar.

The animal was quartered. The head and fat were offered on the altar, The priest washed the legs and entrails and offered them also. Any animal remains were thrown into the ashes. The Burnt offering was twice, daily.

Sword Drill Numbers 28:3

Two animals were sacrifices daily, one in the morning and the other in the evening, to atone for sins of the people.

The Sacrifices, Holy Days and Festivals

The Cereal Offering (bloodless)

Sword Drill Leviticus 2 & 6: 14 - 23 (Regulations)

The Israelis offered grains and vegetables too.

These crops could be offered with the "Burnt Offering" or they could be offered separately.

The cooking instructions are mentioned in Leviticus 2
Dough could be offered from flour cooked in an oven, on a griddle,
Pan-fried or roasted, (baked) as bread.

All grain offerings were made with salt and oil.
No yeast (leaven) or honey was ever used.

The offerer (worshipper) had to offer an amount of frankincense too.
The offerer could bring uncooked grains, salt and oil with the offering.

The offering was brought to one of two priests, who then took it to the altar and threw a memorial portion in the fire, along with the frankincense.

The priest could eat the left over portion.

Sword Drill Leviticus 2:14

The Fellowship Offering (Blood)

Sword Drill Leviticus 2:14

A ritual meal, called "The fellowship, or peace offering was shared with God, the priests, the offerer and other worshippers.

The offered brought a male or female, which was without defect as the offerer Could afford!

The priest kept the skin of the animal.

The offering was brought to the door of the Tabernacle.

The offerer placed his hand on the animals' head, and the animal was accepted as atonement for the offerer. The animal was killed and the blood was poured around the edges of the Altar.

The animals fat and entrails were burned.
The priest and the worshippers ate the rest.

The sacrifice was designed to praise and give thanks to God.
The offering included unleavened cakes.

The memorial portion of the cakes was kept, but the remainder of the cakes and animal had to be eaten.

The Sacrifices, Holy Days and Festivals

The Sin Offering (Blood or Bloodless)

Sword Drill Leviticus 4: 1- 35 & 16: 24 - 30 & 8: 14 - 17 & 16: 3-22

This offering was intended to atone for unintentional sins and ritual faults against The Lord.

Sword Drill Leviticus 4: 1-2

Different people offered different sacrifices.
The High Priest offered a Bull

The blood was sprinkled from the finger of the High Priest, seven times upon the altar. The fat was burned and the remainder of the bull as burnt outside the camp of Israel. The leaders of the people offered a male goat

The blood was sprinkled once only, the remainder was poured around the altar, just like the Burnt Offering. Ordinary people offered female animals

If a person was very poor they could offer a Grain Offering!
The procedure for the Grain Offering was the same as the procedure for the Cereal Offering. There were many unintentional sins and some were simply ceremonial sins.

Lepers could offer these sacrifices too.
